Connecting parish staff with one another and with the Curia

Curia Connections is a quarterly gathering for people who work for parishes in a variety of roles. The same meeting is held on 3 consecutive mornings, one in each vicariate. Representatives from Curia offices attend to present consistent and timely information and to answer questions at all three meetings. Vicariate staff and liaisons also share information and provide prayer and formation opportunities.

What would be most helpful to you as Parish Staff? What topics and information would YOU like to see at Curia Connections gatherings?

Please contact Cara Koen at carakoen@archstl.org or 314-792-6510 to share your ideas.

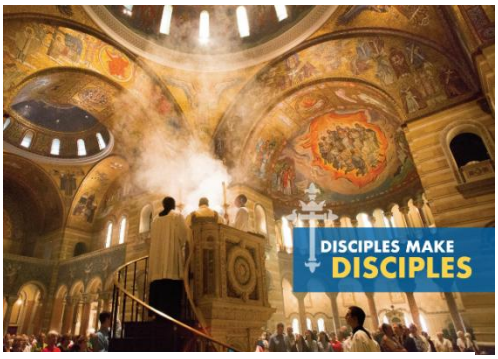

NEW ARDOR – NEW METHODS – NEW EXPRESSIONS

Disciples Make Disciples: A New Pastoral Vision from Archbishop Rozanski

In January 2024 on the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, Archbishop Mitchell Rozanski released "Disciples Make Disciples," a new pastoral vision for the Archdiocese of St. Louis. It's accompanied by "The Way: A Journey Toward Renewal and Vitality," a new experience that will guide parishes and ministries in formulating a clear vision rooted in evangelization and will assist them in exploring diverse approaches to creating a path for discipleship.

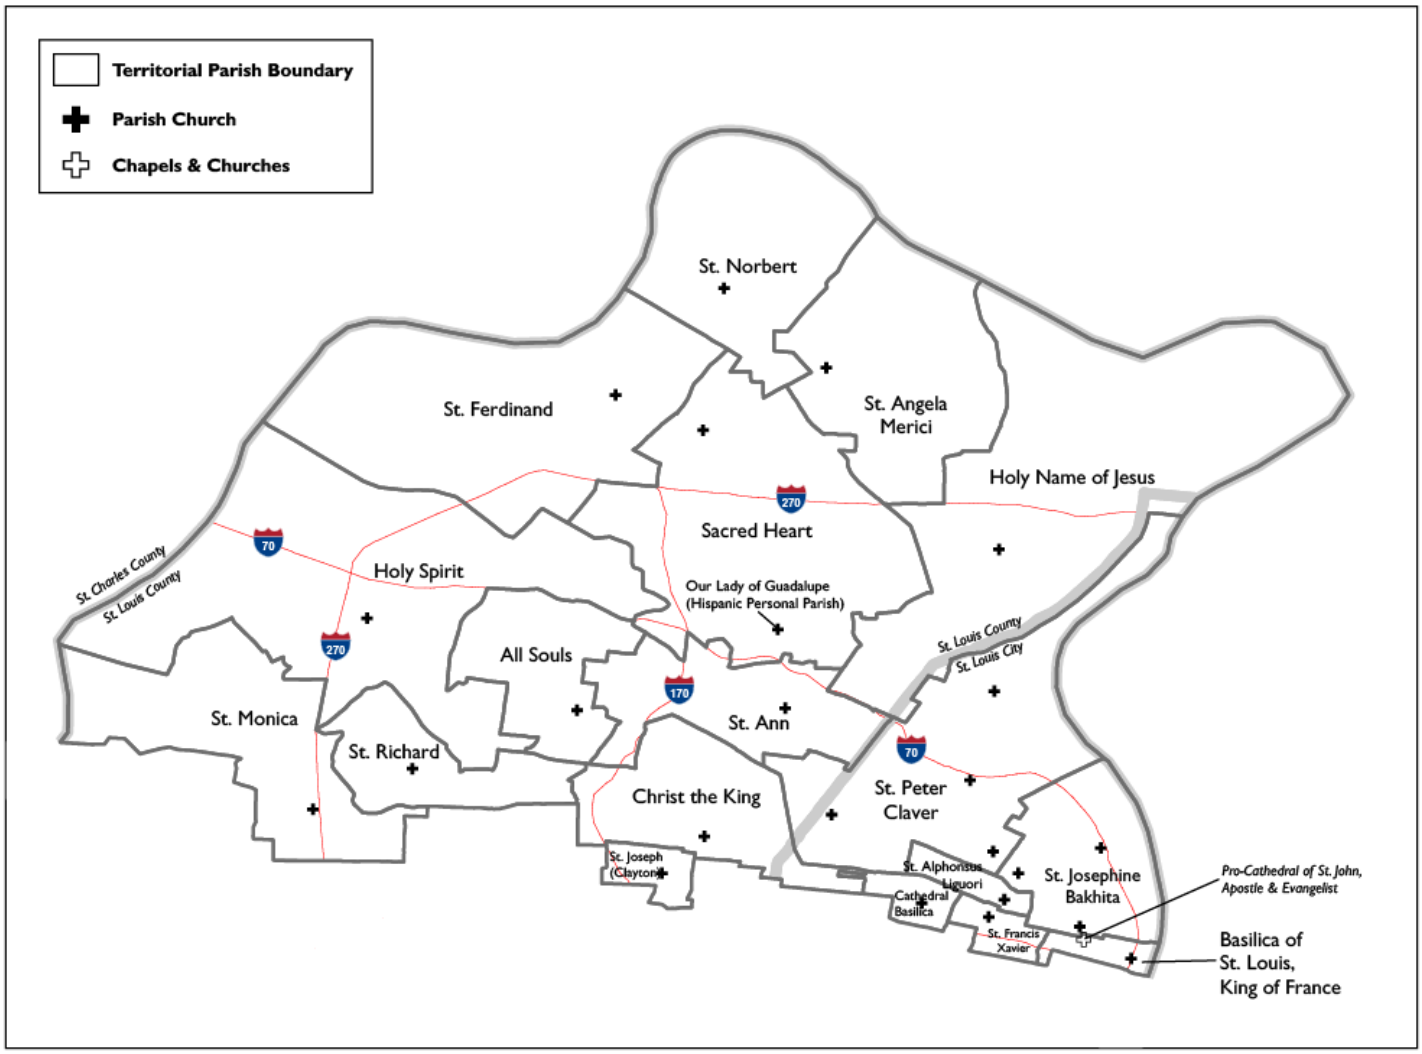

"We certainly have the Gospel message — the Good News of the Lord Jesus — and that brings us life," Archbishop Rozanski said. "What we need to do is share that Good News of life that Jesus comes to give to us. Many of our people are living that each and every day. What 'The Way' will do is help them to articulate how Jesus has transformed their own lives so that they can go about and transform others' lives with that Good News."

To learn more about The Way, visit theway.archstl.org and read the pastoral vision from Archbishop.

Would you like to learn ways to use this vision document with your parish staff, leadership and ministry volunteers? Amy Buehrle, Pastoral Ministry Coordinator, would be happy to meet with you to discuss ways you can begin to integrate some of the principles and practices into your regular parish operations. Contact Amy at amybuehrle@archstl.org or 314-792-6512.
