Historical Note

The Missions:

In 1956, Archbishop Joseph E. Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, responding to a letter from Archbishop Abel Antezana y Rojas of La Paz, Bolivia, agreed to send diocesan priests from St. Louis to Bolivia to cover the shortage of Catholic priests there. The Archdiocese of Saint Louis thus became the first American diocese to establish an international mission, something that had previously been relegated to religious orders. Several years later, Archbishop Cardinal Ritter called the Latin American Apostolate "one of the most important actions in my episcopal career." A year after establishing the mission, Pope Pius XII wrote the encyclical Fidei Donum to encourage diocesan priests to become involved in missionary work.

The first three diocesan priests to serve were Rev. David A. Ratermann, Rev. Andrew A. Kennedy, and Rev. Andrew B. Schierhoff. Diocesan priests continued to serve in the first mission parish of Cristo Rey until 1993 when it was turned over to the Archdiocese of La Paz. In 1959, the Archbishop of La Paz established the second parish mission at San Agustín in Viacha, an area comprised of around 50 rural communities of indigenous Aymara people. San Agustín was transferred to the archdiocese in the mid-1980s. Maria Reina Parish in La Paz began as a mission outpost of Cristo Rey Parish when Father Schierhoff began celebrating Mass in the local market. The parish was officially established as a parish in 1966. That same year, St. Louis priests added another mission at the parish of Santiago (St. James in English) in Calamarca, Bolivia. Of the five parishes that border on Calamarca, three did not have a resident priest. The area encompassed some 50,000 Catholics.

The diocesan priests took "altitude leaves" in Arica, Chile, to allow their bodies a respite from the high altitude of La Paz. It wasn't long before the priests worked with the Bishop of San Marcos de Arica to establish the mission parish of Sagrada Familia in Arica in 1964. In 1977, the parish was transferred to the Diocese of San Marcos de Arica.

In 1959, Archbishop Ritter invited the Sisters of the Most Precious Blood of O'Fallon to work in Bolivia alongside the priests. The Precious Blood Sisters' first commitment was to the school of Cristo Rey which opened in 1962. The Sisters also became the anchor for catechism education, the outpatient clinic, a midwifery training program, childcare and orphanages, credit unions and production cooperatives. The Sisters have served there ever since.

In 1980, Bolivia experienced a brutal coup d'état, during which the military government imprisoned, tortured, and interrogated many Catholic priests, nuns, and pastoral workers. Insights into the experiences of Catholic missionaries are found among the archival records including reports from St. Louisan Father David Ratermann on his imprisonment and how the military rule effected his community. Despite the offer to evacuate, none of the diocesan priests left their communities - a testament to their deep connection with the people they served. In fact, Father Ratermann spent over forty years working in Bolivia. He was elevated to Monsignor in 1967.

Father Kennedy was named a Monsignor in 1961 and appointed Vicar General of La Paz in 1967. During this time, he served as the Secretary for Bolivian Bishop's Conference. He eventually returned to St. Louis in 1982 and directed Spanish Ministry in the Archdiocese. Father Schierhoff was ordained an Auxiliary Bishop of La Paz in 1968 and later named Bishop of the Apostolic Vicariate of Pando in 1982. While Father Morgan A. Casey was pastor of San Agustín and named Auxiliary Bishop of La Paz by Pope John Paul II in 1983. Father Bernard H. Sandheinrich was appointed Archdiocesan Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, where he served until his death in 2004. He was also Director of the Mission Office. He founded the Pan y Amor program in 1991.

In 2021, Maria Reina Parish was transferred to the Archdiocese of La Paz, ending the Archdiocese of Saint Louis Mission to Bolivia. Around 45 priests served in Bolivia during the mission's 64 years of existence. The Mission Office continues its relationship with the Archdiocese of La Paz mainly through financial support.

Office Functions and Programs:

Latin American Apostolate: The Latin American Apostolate was founded by Cardinal Ritter in 1956. It was run by the Archdiocesan Mission Office and used to separate the finances of the Archdiocese and the Latin American missions. In addition to financial support, the Apostolate supported the missionary priests. The archbishop had full control of the Apostolate but left the daily operations to the Mission Office. Most archbishops actively recruited for the Apostolate and made at least one visit to the missions.

Daily World Missionaries: The Daily World Missionaries is a local organization run through the Missions Office, and was originally founded to support the Latin American Apostolate. The missionaries are composed of lay persons who offer prayers and financial support to the missions. Pan Y Amor was founded in 1991 by Msgr. Sandheinrich to sponsor children primarily in Bolivia, but is also present in Colombia, Kenya and Uganda.

Papal Volunteers for Latin America: In 1961, Pope John XXIII appealed to the world to send lay missionaries to help the Church in Latin America. Papal Volunteers for Latin America (PAVLA) worked as teachers, nurses, credit union specialists, catechists and social service workers. The PAVLA program was discontinued in 1971 in favor of the Maryknoll Lay Missioners.

Society for the Propagation of the Faith: The Society for the Propagation of the Faith was founded in 1820 to support missionary dioceses across the world. The first recipient of funding from the Society was the Diocese of Louisiana and the Floridas under Bishop William DuBourg, the seat of which was St. Louis. Money is raised worldwide and distributed through a committee of recipients in Rome. The Mission Office coordinates the archdiocese's involvement with the society. The Archdiocese of Saint Louis has historically been one of the largest donors to the Society and receives financial support for the Latin American Apostolate.

Scope and Content

Series 1: Priests' Correspondence contains the official and unofficial correspondence of priests with the Mission's Director. Official correspondence mostly involves finances and personnel issues, such as needing to recruit more priests. There is a wealth of personal correspondence with Msgr. Bernard H. Sandheinrich (former Mission Office Director) about their daily lives and events in the Archdiocese. Some files contain photographs of the priest. It is recommended that researchers start with Msgr. Ratermann and Msgr. Sandheinrich. Files are organized alphabetically by priest's surname.

Series 2: Cardinal Carberry Correspondence contains official correspondence from the Archbishop's office relating to the Latin American Apostolate.

Series 3: Latin American Apostolate contains a wide variety of files relating to the Latin American Apostolate. Examples include fundraising, audits, correspondence with religious orders, and correspondence with various organizations such as the Daily World Missionaries and the Society for the Propagation of Faith. Materials related to these topics are also contained within folders from Series 1.

Series 4: Photographs and Audio Visual Material contains pictures of missionaries, priests, schools, parishes, and other places in Latin America. There are also audio and video recordings from the missionaries.

Restrictions

Records are closed to the public for 30 years after date of creation. Archives staff will review files before releasing. Files may be restricted due to personal, legal, medical, financial or personnel information. The Archives reserves the right to restrict materials. Please make an appointment to research at the archives. See our website at <http://archstl.org/archives>.
